BALLOONISTS SAFE IN JERSEY

2 DARING MEN LIE IN SWAMP; MISSING HOURS

Settle and Fordney Land
Early Monday Evening
Near Bridgeton

CLIMB 11 MILES

Fordney Hikes to Farm-
House, Used Phone

BRIDGETON, N. J., Nov. 21.—None the worse for their thrilling experience, Lieut. Commander T. G. W. Settle and Major Chester Fordney were found safe today after they had made a perfect "egg shell" landing in their stratosphere balloon in the swampy marshes ten miles southwest of Bridgeton.

They had been missing in their aluminum gondola for hours after having penetrated eleven miles into the sky, and thousands of persons had been searching for them by land and air with coast guard stations making preparation to scour the sea.

"It was a wonderful experience and we wouldn't have missed it for anything," said Major Fordney to an International News Service reporter after he had made his way through the marshes at 9:30 a. m. to the farmhouse of S. M. Johnson in the inaccessible black neck region. Settle stayed with the balloon.

"I'm Major Fordney," the visitor said, as he arrived at the Johnson farm. "Fordney the balloonist. Can I use your telephone?"

CALLER WASHINGTON
He was admitted. Without delay he reported by telephone to army headquarters at Washington. Major Fordney is attached to the marine corps; Lieut. Commander Settle to the United States navy. "It was a normal ballooning operation," said Fordney to the International News Service correspondent a short time later. He spoke in a calm, matter-of-fact tone. He is a stocky man of medium height, slightly bald. He wore a sweater over a leather vest.

He said he and Commander Settle landed at 5:30 p. m. they had set out from Akron, Ohio, at 9:30 a. m. yesterday.

Instead of trying to make their way through the slushy marshes in the gathering darkness he and Settle decided to remain in the balloon last night and make their whereabouts known first thing this morning.

Mrs. Johnson, the farmer's wife, insisted on being the good hostess to her unexpected visitor.

"You must have some breakfast," she said.

With a smile, the major complied. He admitted he was hungry, even though he and Settle had some concentrated food with them during their flight.

He partook of ham and eggs with relish.

This was higher than other Americans had ever penetrated into the sky. The record, 63,320 feet or 11.8 miles, was established by three Russian balloonists near Moscow last September.

BROWN FUNERAL WEDNESDAY 2:30

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna E. Brown, who died at the home of her daughter in Dayton, will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at her home, 514 N. Court-st., with Rev. Herman A. Sayre in charge.

Interment will be in Forest cemetery by the Albaugh Co.

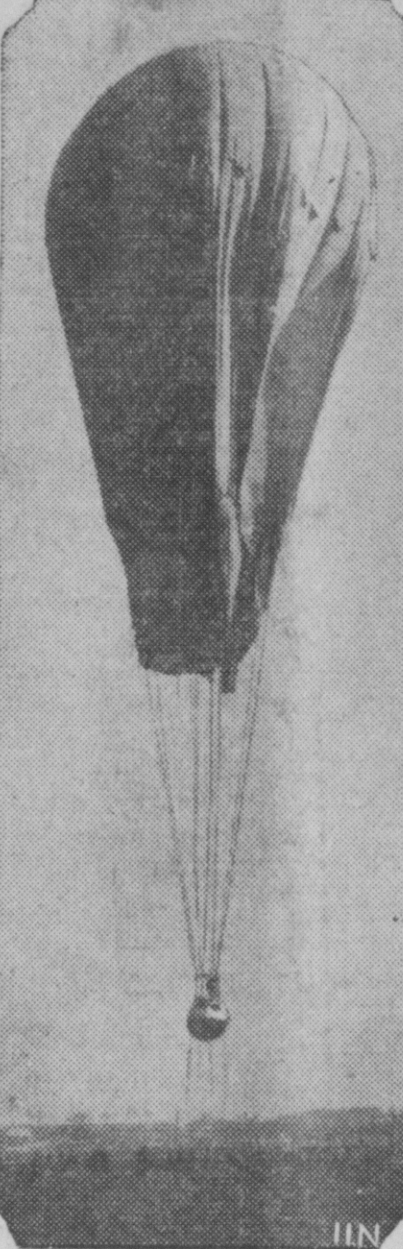

Pall bearers will be Orville Trone, Wallace Crist, William E. Cady, George F. Grand-Girard, Lemuel Butch and Fred C. Clark.

HOSPITAL NEWS
Mrs. Bertha Cramer, Elm-ave, was discharged from Berger hospital, Tuesday, where she had undergone an operation.

Three tonsil operations were performed at Berger hospital, Tuesday on John Richard Wood, 12; Dorothy Crago, 11, and Jennie Griffey, 9.

SCHOOLS TO UNITE
CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Negotiations looking toward a merger combining the University of Chicago and Northwestern university into one great educational enterprise today were reported to have reached the final stage.

In Stratosphere Try

This photo shows the huge balloon and gondola carrying Lieutenant Commander T. G. Settle and his aide, Major Chester H. Fordney, taking off from the Akron, O., municipal airport in an attempt to reach the stratosphere and shatter the altitude record. Before leaving the ground, 120,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas were poured into the balloon.

JURY DECIDES SMITH GUILTY

Deliberates Less Than 30
Minutes; Tw Others Admit
Griffey Robbery.

Henry S. Smith, Ohio-st, was found guilty of burglary of the Robert Griffey restaurant, W. Main-st, by a jury in Judge J. W. Adkins' court, Tuesday. The jurors deliberated less than 30 minutes. Paul E. Adkins, Smith's counsel, said he would seek a new trial.

Smith was arrested several weeks ago with William Reynolds and George Eblin after the Griffey restaurant was robbed. He denied the charge and pleaded not guilty to the indictment although he was implicated by Reynolds and Eblin.

The latter men pleaded guilty. Reynolds has been sentenced to one to 15 years and Eblin's was deferred until the completion of the Smith trial. It is expected he will be sentenced with Smith.

The trial began Monday morning with selection of a jury. Arguments were concluded by attorneys about 11 a. m., then followed the court's charge. A. H. Crownover was foreman of the jury which included Marvin Stealy, Sewell Beers, John Dick, Josiah Hinton, Ernest Lane, Lulu Sheeta, Melissa Rodgers, George Rayburn, William Fischer, Clarence Peters and John Greenlee.

Witnesses questioned during the trial included Mrs. Ruth Griffey, George Eblin, William McCrady, William Reynolds, Fred Fitzpatrick and Raymond Smith, for the state, and Mouser Crayne, Lafayette Eby, Mack Parrett Jr., Henry Joseph, Charles Miller, James Harris, H. O. Eveland, Earl Hoffman, H. E. Betz and James Nealand, for the defense. Most of the defense witnesses were character witnesses.

Ray W. Davis, prosecutor, conducted the case for the state.

HEARING SCHEDULED
Judge J. W. Adkins, Wednesday, will hear contempt charges of Walter J. Goodman against H. M. Crites, and will also decide the damage action filed by Mr. Goodman.

The case was scheduled for last week but Attorney Richard Simkins was unable to be present. Former Judge E. A. Brown represents Goodman.

The action does not go before a jury.

Accept County-City
Offer

J. Howard Sweetman, county engineer, Tuesday, was studying possible projects in the county on which 120 men, the allotment under the Civil Works administration, will be put to work. He will submit his list to the commissioners to be presented to Adj. Gen. Frank Henderson at a meeting in Columbus Wednesday afternoon. It is expected the projects will include work on roads now traveled by school busses in several of the townships. Other roads also need repair, Mr. Sweetman said, and there are several ditches the cleaning of which could give work to a number of men.

All the 120 will be selected from relief lists.

The commissioners are expected to know much more "what the whole thing is about" when they return from their trip.

Coleman Building Offer Accepted

Announcement was made Monday that a proposal made to J. I. Smith, J. R. Hedges and Ed Hedges for their property on W. Main-st had been accepted.

The property on which the old Colonial Carriage building now stands is on ground which is needed to straighten W. Main-st between the Scioto river bridge and the Norfolk & Western tracks in the city limits. It is expected the old building will be dismantled within two weeks, the contract let and work started.

FINANCED BY U. S.
The project is being financed by the government with the right-of-way up to the city and county. The commissioners have agreed to pay $2,500 toward the remainder of the city standing the remainder of the expense. It is understood $4,500 was offered the owners for the Colonial Carriage Co. plot. Palmer Wise, fire chief, owns another piece of property at that location which must be bought before the road can go through. No trouble is foreseen over this transaction. The project is expected to provide work for a number of men.

Asks Code for NRA

The administrator carried the case to the court of appeals. Attorneys for the bank were Charles Dresbach and Tom A. Renick.

The court's decision in the suit of Ethel M. Toole against Ralph S. Hosler, Asheville, for $10,000 damages was reversed. The appeals was made by Miss Toole, the original plaintiff, contesting the correctness of the court's ruling on a motion of Mr. Hosler's attorney, F. R. Hoover, to quash service of summons in the action.

The appeals judge declared the court's action is sustaining a motion to quash service was erroneous and the cause should be remanded for further proceeding. L. P. Henderson, Columbus, represents the plaintiff.

Judge Mauck wrote the opinion in the Adkins and Second National bank case while Judge Blosser wrote the opinion in the Toole-Hosler action.

Several other appeals are being considered by the court including that of Newell McNeal, Williamsport, from a conviction by a common pleas court jury. Decisions are expected at any time.

BIRTHS
Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hedges (Helen Ebert), Asheville, announce the birth of a daughter at Berger hospital Monday evening.

PARRETT WILL NAMES FAMILY

Son Is Appointed Executor
With Bulk of Estate Going To Widow.

His widow, Mrs. Sarah A. Parrett, and other members of the immediate family are named beneficiaries under the will of the late Henry MacDonald Parrett, W. Franklin-st. The will was probated, Monday.

It bequeaths to the widow his undivided half interest in his store room on W. Main-st, and his undivided half interest in the hall known as the "Old Masonic Hall" over the block occupied by the Grand-Girard store, the Parrett store and the Brunner jewelry store.

The will orders Wolfson Parrett, the executor, to set aside from funds in his safety-deposit box in the First National bank $10,000 in United States bonds or other good securities and to keep them re-invested to the interest from which to be paid to the widow.

To each of his children, Misses Irene and Winifred, Mrs. Fannie Roebuck and Wolfson, he gives $1,000 and to Miss Irene he gives $500 in trust for each of his two grandsons, McDonald and James G. Curl Jr., of Columbus. A gold watch is also given to McDonald Curl.

The remainder of the estate goes to the widow in fee simple. At her demise the entire estate is to be divided equally between the children.

The property is estimated to be worth $39,000, $35,000 of which is personal property and $4,000 real estate. Appraisers are George F. Grand-Girard, H. B. Colwell and E. C. Fricke. The will was written July 17, 1924 and was witnessed by John L. Helise and E. F. Roebuck.

It named Mrs. Parrett and her son, Wolfson, as executors without bond, but upon declaration of the widow, the son was appointed alone.

WALKER AND COLLINS
Reported in Barrett
Cabinet at Chillicothe

Rumors are prevalent here that Mayor-elect Walter S. Barrett, of Chillicothe, has definitely closed several of his appointments. He succeeds J. R. Gunning as mayor on Jan. 1, the same date that William B. Cady takes Mayor B. T. Hedges' place.

It is reported here, despite statements of Barrett that he has made no appointments, that Neil Walker, formerly of this city, will be the new chief of the police department; that William Collins, well known here, will be the new fire chief, and that Louis Houser will be safety director.

Mr. Cady has been more fortunate than has Mr. Barrett. Reports have been heard concerning possible appointments but none of the reports have come from sources near enough the mayor-elect to give them a sound of accuracy.

THEFT REPORTED TO POLICE, SHERIFF

Reports of two thefts were put on the police docket, Monday. A sweeper and shotgun were stolen from the B. P. O. Elks lodge and several cases of canned goods were stolen from the Win-Orr Canning Co. over the week-end.

The sheriff's office was notified Monday evening by Mrs. William Leist, Washington-tw, that between 60 and 70 chickens were stolen early in the evening.

Harry Dresbach, Pickaway-tw, reported to the sheriff's office that someone tried to steal hogs at his farm about 9 p. m. Monday but he frightened them away.

B. P. O. E. ELKS PLAN MANY ACTIVITIES

Circleville B. P. O. Elks lodge is planning several activities prior to January 1.

A delegation of members is planning to visit Lancaster Wednesday evening when Ferd M. Pickens, district deputy grand exalted ruler, inspects the lodge of that city.

Next Monday evening, a turkey frolic is planned at the club and on December 5 an initiation, the first under Exalted Ruler Emmitt L. Crist and his staff of officers, is planned. Two weeks after that on Dec. 19 the annual inspection is tentatively arranged.

PRESLER RITES ARE THURSDAY

Services At 2 P. M. At Trinity
Lutheran Church, Dr.
Troutman in Charge.

Funeral services will be conducted by Dr. G. L. Troutman Thursday at 2 p. m. at Trinity Lutheran church for George F. Pressler, aged 72, who passed away Monday at his home, 127 Pinckney-st. Complications after two years' illness caused death.

Interment will be in Forest cemetery by M. S. Rinehart. Pall bearers will be H. B. Colwell, A. C. Cook, H. G. Fullen, Frank Howard, E. S. Neuding and William Beavers.

Mr. Pressler was a retired grocer and farmer.

He was born in Fairfield-co, Aug. 13, 1861, a son of Daniel and Elizabeth Simon Pressler. He had been a resident of this city for 47 years.

Mr. Pressler was twice married, first to Lillie D. Hedge and the second time to Nora Parsons. Both preceded him in death.

Survivors include a son, Clayton of Silver City, New Mexico; a step-daughter, Mrs. Fred Donnelly, with whom he made his home; a grandson, Armond Presler of Columbus; two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Will of Amanda, and Mrs. Maude Leist, this city; two brothers, Charles H. of Cedar Hill, and William of Baltimore, O., and two half brothers, Lloyd Will of Lancaster and Carl Will, this city.

Hostages Freed
By Bank Yeggs

RACINE, Wis., Nov. 21.—Loot in excess of $20,000 was obtained, it was estimated today, by the gang of bandits who staged a daring raid on the American Trades and Savings bank here, wounding two persons and kidnapping two others.

As a checkup was being completed estimates of the sum stolen ranged between $20,000 and $40,000.

After cowing a squad of police officers and holding at bay a crowd of 300 citizens who had gathered the gang fled with Grover Weyland, president of the bank, and Mrs. Ursula Patzke, an employee. The two hostages were later released near Waukesha, Wis., when the bandits had eluded pursuers.

Police Sergt. Wilbur Hansen was shot in the hip, and Harold Grant, assistant cashier, was shot in the side.

WHEAT CONTRACTS GO TO WASHINGTON

All wheat reduction contracts expressed to Washington, except a few that had to be retained to get affidavits made out of those signing as Agents.

Last information from Washington requires those people who are Agents for others to furnish power of attorney or affidavits as proof that they are agents for the parties signed.

Persons signing as administrators or executors and etc. must furnish certified copies of court order. These papers must accompany contracts. Contracts with these papers will be sent to Washington as soon as they can be secured.

Local League, 5 Coun- cilmen-to-Be in Chillicothe

TO MEET AGAIN

Mayor - Elect Attends
in Ross-co City

A united front against the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in an effort to obtain lower rates for the two cities loomed today after Citizens' leagues of this city and Chillicothe conferred in the Ross-co city Monday evening.

Other meetings with definite plans to be formed are contemplated in the near future.

Fifteen members of the local Citizens' league, including five councilmen who will be in office January 1, attended the meeting. A large number of Chillicotheans, including Mayor-Elect Walter Barrett, Senator James Ford, 'father' of the probe into school lobbies and book prices in the Ohio Senate, President-of-Council Brown, also attended the confab and made short talks concerning the question.

ONLY TWO ABSENT
Local councilmen and councilmen-to-be included C. O. Leist, first ward; Julius Helwegson, second ward; W. M. Reid, fourth ward, and Ben H. Gordon and Frank Baker, councilmen-at-large. Councilman-at-large Frank Marlon and Third Ward Councilman-elect Dan T. Ryan were the only members of the new council not present.

Harvey Heffner, president of the Circleville Citizens' league, headed the delegation. Paul E. Adkins, retiring solicitor who is active in the league, was also in the delegation.

Chillicotheans have been much more active on the gas question in recent months than Circleville has been. The gas question has been discussed many, many times in council with a result that, with a divided council, many times the heated, according to reports, The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. has made the same offer on rates to Chillicothe that it has to the local council. The council here expects to read an ordinance submitted at a recent committee meeting in open session at the next meeting.

CITE FIFTH YEAR
Members of the Citizens' league contend that the proposed ordinance, which is for five years' duration, is not fair in its final step, the fifth year. The league claims that the gas company, in case of a controversy, will receive the benefit of a high rate for the fifth year all the time the controversy is going on. For example, the point out, in Circleville the company's contract expired nearly three years ago with the result that it has been collecting the final rate for the entire three years.

C. W. BAKER DIES

Charles W. Baker, 59, former resident of near Williamsport, died at his home in St. Louis, Mo., Monday at 4 a. m. after a short illness.

He was the son of the late John W. and Eliza Beatty Baker, lifelong residents of this county.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Eva Baker and two children, Charles and Elizabeth, and one sister, Mrs. Emma Baker Jones of Vincennes, Ind.

Mr. Baker was an uncle of Miss Mary and William Radcliffe of Williamsport.

William Radcliffe will attend funeral services to be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. in St. Louis, followed by cremation.

Miss Margaret Stabler, secretary to the NRA Labor Advisory Board, who is leading the fight to secure a code for Blue Eagle workers who have been too busy getting shorter hours and more pay for others to think about themselves. Miss Stabler has been with the Blue Eagle since it was a fledgling.

St. John Denies Dorais Report; Tackle Is Hurt

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21.—Prompt denials on the part of university athletic department officials today greeted the report that Charles E. "Gus" Dorais, football mentor at the University of Detroit, will become head coach at Ohio State University next season.

No official statement was forthcoming, but a report from Detroit was circulated to the effect that Dorais has been approached and has accepted terms.

L. W. St. John, athletic director of Ohio State University, repeated his statement made after the Buckeyes' defeat by Michigan, that "nothing has been done about the coaching situation." The report that Dorais will come to Ohio State looks like "so much whole cloth," he said.

HAD LONG CONTRACT

The Detroit mentor was offered the post here at the end of the 1928 football season, but then he was tied up with a long-term contract to Detroit.

Dorais was quarterback of the famous Notre Dame team which had Knute Rockne as end. Dorais and Rockne formed the receiving and throwing ends of a famous pass combination.

Meanwhile, hampered by injuries, the Ohio State squad drilled steadily for its game against Illinois in Ohio Stadium here Saturday.

The regulars were not excused from attending the drill session, but took it light throughout the practice. Other members of the squad were put through a scrimmage. Guarding against any more injuries among the first-stringers, Coach Sam S. Willaman said they would not be put through scrimmage, although they will be given limbering-up exercises, formation routine, and punting and passing practice.

ROSEQUIST HURT

Possibility was seen that Pete Delich, versatile lineman, would take the place of the giant Rosequist in the line. The Cleveland has a badly sprained ankle and is not expected to play this week.

Gallus, Yards, and Smith also are on the hospital list. If Yards, who is slated to replace Rosequist, is unable to play the position will likely go to Delich.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 21.—Les Kaufman, who suffered a wrenched knee Saturday, returned to the squad today as Princeton started work for the Rutgers game. The team was warned not to take lightly the finest team Rutgers ever had. Coach Crisler gave Princeton some new plays.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 21.—Harvard hopes rose today with the return of Captain Dean and Choate. One shift has been made in the first team. Shaun Kelly replacing Tom Nazro at end. The Brown victory supplied a tonic which Harvard thinks will lead to a victory over Yale.

WESLEYAN GRIDDERS FACE THESE BOBCATS

STATE CAGERS FACING TOUGH 19-TILT CARD

Hosket, Conrad, Colburn, Beitner, Wilson Form Nucleus For Buckeyes.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21.—With the end of football season only one game and several banquets away, Coach Harold G. Olsen's Big Ten championship Ohio State University basketball squad looked for the first time today at its completed schedule, and went seriously about its work.

Athletic Director L. M. St. John announced today that the University of Dayton has been scheduled for a New Year's night game at Dayton, filling the only open date on the card which includes 20 difficult games. High spots of the schedule: non-conference games against Ohio Wesleyan, University of Western Ontario, Pittsburgh, Princeton, Marquette, Notre Dame and Western Reserve; and two conference games each against Chicago, Indiana, Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

TEAMS ALTERED

In compliance with the Big Ten's revolving schedule, Illinois, Purdue, and Iowa are dropped from the card this year, and Michigan, Chicago, and Northwestern are added.

The Buckeye squad is already out of the blister stage. Coach Olsen has had them at work in the new Ohio State gymnasium three nights each week for the past month, and although several promising candidates are still playing football, the outstanding lettermen have been scrimmaging daily.

PACKERS LEADING IN TWO BRANCHES

The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football league for three of the last four years, are tied for honors in the divergent types of play according to league statistics compiled today.

The Packers have thrown the most forwards, 143, and because of the amazing accuracy of Arnold (Flash) Berber, have completed the most, 63, for an average of 44 per cent. Brooklyn has completed 55 in 120 for an average of 45 per cent but has played three less games. On defense, the Packers are tied with Portsmouth for honors. The Packers have yielded only 1571 yards in ten games, the Spartans 1408 in nine.

Only the New York Giants have a better record in making points, the Giants have scored 170 to 148 for the Wisconsin eleven. Boston continues to stand out as the offensive leader with 2355 yards gained in ten games.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 21.—The Navy speeded up its offensive against Army plays today. Chung-Hoon, one of the Navy's best backs, showed no ill effects from his recent injury but Dave Miller, an end, is definitely ruptured a tear duct. The squad will leave here for Philadelphia late Thursday afternoon.

As usual, the Lindberghs declined to reveal their plans. They would not say whether the Azores hop was to be the first leg of a flight across the Atlantic to the United States, or whether they would return to Europe after inspecting the air travel facilities of these Atlantic islands.

UP TO WEATHER

The opinion prevailed that the weather would be the final decision-maker for Col. Lindbergh, and that any decision made would be on the spot. In other words, he probably will not decide where or how he will go from the Azores until he is ready to leave.

Grange Writes of G. M. Wertman Death

Another one of our number, George Wertman, has been called from this life to another sphere of action. In his going we have lost a valuable citizen, a consistent member of our order, an earnest supporter of all that is good and upright in our every day life.

His honesty and integrity are unquestioned. A devoted husband, a kind father and an excellent advisor in everything pertaining to the betterment of his fellowman. We deplore his loss and it will be difficult to fill his place in our midst.

We wish these remarks to be placed in our record, a copy sent to the local paper and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

WHY GET UP NIGHTS?

Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BURETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

THREATS TO LYNCH SHOWN IN TRIAL OF SOUTHERN NEGROES

DECATUR, Ala., Nov. 21.—An amazing document, purporting to be the quoted opinions of a cross examination of Morgan-co residents—more than 500 of them—expressing the belief that "the Scottsboro niggers and their Jew lawyers from New York should be lynched" lay before the circuit court here today.

The record, containing the names, addresses and occupations of the persons quoted, created a sensation as it was introduced by Samuel Leibowitz and Joseph Brodsky, New York attorneys defending the seven Scottsboro negroes on a charge of attacking two white girls mill workers on a freight train three years ago.

The New York counsel brought forth the voluminous document as their ace-in-the-hole in an attempt to shift the third Scottsboro case trial to Mobile, in the southern part of the state.

"Hard times" were never easy on good looks! If you've been holding down on the beauty budget, now's the time to do a right-about-face . . . to do the right thing about your face . . . your hands . . . your hair!

THE LINES are lifting on the economic chart. Better times are here.

But what about the lines that Four Years have etched in our faces? What about the little worry-lines between your own two eyes, and the tired sag in your throat muscles where you haven't been rubbing "up and out . . . up and out" as regularly as you used to?

Recent years have been a little ruthless! And even with leisure forced upon us, no one seemed to find time to keep beauty-fit. Have you bought and used your regular cleansing and nourishing creams, for instance? Is your rouge compact fresh, or worn down to a hard, flinty little layer? And what about your face powder? Haven't you switched around a bit . . . buying brands that were offered as cut-price specials?

Well, in the meanwhile, Time has rushed on relentlessly and none of us is four years younger! But here's the Big Satisfaction . . . it's never too late to mend by today's beauty methods. A new routine and the right cosmetics give you just the start you need. So why not a Recovery Program for your good looks! Clear a shelf for your own . . . fill it with the best cosmetics you can buy . . . and draw up a code of what you will do for appearances' sake every single day!

Standard beauty-products may never again be so low in price!

In fact, there's every reason why THEY MUST GO UP! Consider all the price-confusion we've had. No standard of value anywhere. Your favorite face powder was 79c at one store, 69c next door, and perhaps 59c as a "1-day special" at a third store. All this while the regular price of $1 was marked on the package. Who was making the fair profit? On any profit at all?

Well, under the new cosmetic code, the dealer who sells toilet goods must pay his salespeople a stipulated wage, and permit no one to work more than 8 hours a day for 5 days a week. If his store remains open for more hours or more days, he is obliged to hire more salespeople.

Manufacturing costs are higher, to

This change, you can see, may raise the price of your favorite beauty-products . . . but it's putting more people to work at higher wages.

All basic ingredients, such as perfume and balm oils and Italian talc, have gone up in price. Also, under NRA codes, cosmetic workers in factories have been raised to a minimum of 30c per hour for women and 45c per hour for men. All this adds still further to the new price-range on your favorite products.

For all these reasons, we say impartially—"NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY" beauty aids. Stock up on your regular brands. Try some of the new preparations, developed with foresight during the depression years. Good cosmetics will not deteriorate, and the perfume in powders and creams can't fade away while the package is sealed.

Glance through the newspaper NOW for the announcements of reliable stores selling beauty aids at attractive prices, and patronize the house that is well-stocked and well-informed.

RECOVERY PROGRAM

for good looks. Get started today!

COMPLEXION

Resume your thorough nightly cleansing at once. Lay in a supply of cleansing cream and facial tissues. These are two daily beauty essentials that you can safely and economically buy in quantity RIGHT NOW. A good grade of cold cream will "keep" indefinitely.

SOAP! Have you been using the general soap-dish variety on your complexion? YOUR skin may need something more bland, or a corrective soap of some kind. By all means, have your own soap-cake and container. Buy complexion soap by the box . . . your dealer will give you a good price today.

SKIN FOOD . . . nourishing creams . . . astringents . . . perhaps a mild bleach. Take a complexion inventory; get advice at any good toilet counter. This is the time to buy all standard preparations in quantity, AND THEN USE THEM!

MASQUE CREAMS and the new refined clays are very effective in tightening the skin temporarily and stimulating circulation. See the demonstrations on these and learn which kind is best suited to your requirements.

FOUNDATION CREAM and under-powder lotions. Perhaps you have been getting along without them. But your powder has a better chance when you prepare the skin to receive it. Have you seen the new foundation aids that lighten the skin a tone and make you look younger?

ROUGE! More and more women are using cream rouge and liking it immensely. If you start with foundation cream, it's easy to smooth the rouge on lightly and becomingly . . . lasts all day, too. See the new shades in cream and dry rouge. A good idea is to buy them in pairs of the same shade; use the cream rouge on your dressing table and carry the dry-rouge compact in your purse.

LIPSTICKS! Aren't they the cheering companions? Try a brand-new shade when you feel jaded. In fact, most of us need about three shades—a rosy daytime tone . . . a bright hue for evening . . . and an orangy cast for brown and rustic fashions.

FACE POWDER! By all means, buy THIS in quantity. Find your best brand and your right shade and make them YOURS until your own skin changes . . . as it does from time to time. Face powder in dry, sealed boxes keeps its perfume and adherence perfectly.

HANDS

Maybe yours (like ours) have done work that was new to them these recent years. But Hand Lotion is the answer to the roughened-reddened problem. Buy it by the half dozen bottles. Keep one in the kitchen and one in the bath. Use a few drops of lotion whenever your hands have been in water. Improvement begins at ONCE. Hand lotion is another beauty aid that "keeps," but of course use it, too!

CUTICLE REMOVER . . . another small item with a big purpose. A little goes a long way, but none at all is fatal. If hang-nails have developed, treat the skin with an antiseptic cuticle cream. Daily care does wonders, and you can spare five minutes.

THEN . . . NEW POLISHES. Aren't they exciting. A whole array of new colors to set off every mood and every costume. Bigger bottles now, too . . . but it won't be long! Buy in quantity today, and leave the bottles sealed. Invest in Polish Remover, too. Don't forget that if you change nail-color frequently you need plenty of Remover.

HAIR

BUY A NEW BRUSH! Use it vigorously and regularly! Maybe your hair DOES need a course of treatments, but maybe it only needs tonic and a good brushing. Tonics, brilliantine, wave-setting lotion, shampoo soap . . . all these things you can "pick up" at the present prices and have on hand when the cost advances or the bottle shrinks in size.

BATH

Soap and hot water may be all you NEED, but certainly not all you WANT. Bath salts, dusting powder, toilette water, and scented soap are good buys today because . . . per bath, they represent a lot of luxury at very little cost. And then, for the unexpected gift or party prize . . . how nice to have on hand!

Wants to Know Why

CLEVELAND, where gangsterism has flourished on a large scale for years, seems headed toward a cleanup as result of having a grand jury foreman who believes in getting at the root of crime problems.

The foreman is William Feather, who is described as being a writer of business philosophy. But on the side it appears that he has been making a little study of crime conditions in Cleveland. He has recalled that the Cleveland police chief two years ago, when gangsterism was at its height in many cities, compiled a list of 65 underworld characters whom he branded as public enemies. They were men with known criminal records.

The grand jury of which Mr. Feather is foreman has been called to make an investigation of crime. A little inquiry pursued by the foreman disclosed that none of the public enemies had been sent to prison. A few of them have been killed since the list containing their names was made public by the police chief. The others apparently have remained in Cleveland and continued to pursue their activities.

Why have they not been prosecuted or driven from the city, the foreman asked. No satisfactory answer being forthcoming from responsible quarters, he has had police officials summoned before his investigating body, and will try to get the answer from them.

Little is to be gained if "public enemies" are to go unmolested and be permitted to continue their lawless activities. It is only when such branding is followed by arrest and prosecution that good is accomplished. Where this is not done law-abiding citizens have the right to demand the reason in that responsibility may be fixed.

No wonder the birds can afford to winter in the South. Old man Robin isn't required to buy peacock feathers for the Missus.

More Speed is Aim

IT IS to be hoped that the latest step in connection with liquidation of closed banks will result in this work being greatly speeded up.

Approximately $3,000,000,000 in assets still are tied up in closed banks. Early freeing of these would loose a potential buying power that would have a stimulating effect upon trade generally.

Despite repeated pronouncements from Washington that the work would be speeded, headway has been comparatively slow. Now a new effort to hasten the process is contemplated. The deposit liquidation board of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has announced the appointment of 64 committees of bankers and business men for this purpose.

These regional committees will receive applications from closed banks in their respective areas for liquidating loans from the corporation. The committees will review the applications and fix the liquidating value for listed assets over a period of from three to five years. Recommendation will be made that a loan of this amount, less the cost of determining the value of the assets, be advanced by the corporation.

It is expected that this will speed up the work, somewhat, which is badly needed if present assets are to play a part in routing the depression.

In the school of experience the "passing mark" is the red mark left by a blister.

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

Pop was reading the paper like he always did when he ate supper. This was one of the things Tommy didn't like about Pop, like his going around in his sock; and when Tommy was there Pop humored him and didn't read while he ate; but Mom always felt sorry for Pop because, when a man worked hard all day and was a good provider and brought in the food and shelter, she always thought he ought to enjoy it the best he could without too many frills or fancies — although Mom felt like Tommy that it wasn't good table manners — and Pop always managed to have the sugar bowl, or ketchup bottle, or something somebody was always wanting, as a prop for his paper.

Then Uncle Louie had to do the same thing — it was Uncle Louie who had started Pop on it; and there were only two parts to the paper and whichever one got it first hated to separate it and it made it kind of bad around the meal time as Mom felt people should feel happy while eating so they could digest their food. Most of Uncle Louie's stomach trouble was due to his grumpiness, she always thought. So finally Mom had got to putting the paper away when it came and saving it for Pop.

That made Uncle Louie mad at first but Mom couldn't help it; any how Uncle Louie had plenty of time to sit and read papers all day as goodness knows he didn't do anything else. Sometimes Mom wished he would go to the Old Men's Home, like he was always promising, although she wondered how long they'd put up with his foolishness out there, and who would get up and get him hot water whenever he yelled for it.

This night Mom had put the paper away without looking at it, although she usually looked over the headlines on the front page, anyhow, and then always turned to the sport page to see if it said anything about Tommy. Her time for really reading the paper was after the dishes were washed and things were quiet, and everybody else was through with it. So when Pop had sat down at the head of the table and put on his glasses and filled up his plate and spread butter thick on the heel of bread, Mom handed him the paper and he fixed up a place for it with the spoon dish and began looking to see what he'd read first so he'd know how to fold it. Mom was at the stove, straining the coffee, with her back to Pop, and when he yelled out she almost burnt her hand.

"I'll be danged!" was all Pop could say. "I'll be danged!" Pop always tried to be a gentleman in his own house although they said he swore something awful at the factory.

"What is it?" Mom asked. Pete and Cousin Emmy crowded around; Uncle Louie was filling his plate.

"It's that boy again," Pop said. From looking at him Mom couldn't tell what it was. Her mind was full of things in the few seconds it took her to get to the paper. Maybe he was really hurt bad; maybe he had a setback.

Pete was smiling. He put the paper down. Mom felt better. "That's nothing," Pete said, "he's just going to get married."

"Married!" Cousin Emmy reached for the paper. Mom sat down, trying to think. This was the worst yet. Cousin Emmy was all excited. "Know who to?" she called to Mom, "to Valeska Mourot."

"Who's she?" Mom asked weakly. "The movie star," Cousin Emmy exclaimed. "You know—The Love Nest and The Purple Garter."

Mom didn't know. Mom didn't have much time for the movies or money either. Neither did Pop. Mom looked at Pop and she could see he felt the same as she did. Tommy married!

Pete said: "Take it easy. Those movie stars are always going to marry somebody but don't."

"I'll get a pass and go out for the wedding," Cousin Emmy said, excitedly. Cousin Emmy's husband was a railroad and she could get passes anywhere on the system and other places if she asked soon enough but she had to pay half the Pullman charges.

"When's it going to be?" Mom asked, still looking at Pop, "and who is she—how long has he known her? It must be wrong."

"No," Cousin Emmy squealed, "here's his picture and hers. I'd know her anywhere. She's one of my favorites."

The rest had stopped eating. Uncle Louie never stopped eating as long as there was anything on the table. Now, with a mouthful, he said: "Huh! Movie star. Huh!"

"What's the matter with her?" Pop asked. "They're all alike—no good. And besides she's a hunk."

"She is not," Cousin Emmy replied sternly. "She comes from the nobility. I read a piece about her just the other day."

"So did I," Uncle Louie said, "it said she got a splinter in her leg from the arm of a chair; and anybody with a name like that is a hunk."

"She's Hungarian," Cousin Emmy defended. "Well, what's that?"

"But a hunk works in a mill or a coal mine or some place."

"All the same whether they work in the mill or the movies," Uncle Louie declared, "anybody with a name like that is a hunk."

Pop returned to his plate. Then he got indignant and said: "What's that boy mean by getting himself tied up and not telling us anything about it? After we put him through school he wants to run off like all the rest and get married."

Mom knew he was just getting started on a talk; after all, it had cost them very little for Tommy's education. Mom didn't know just who was paying the big bills except for some spending money and clothes now and then. Tommy had told them not to talk about that to anybody.

"He's twenty-one, Jim," Mom said. "He has his own life to live. We got married young."

"Yes—but I had a job."

Cousin Emmy laughed excitedly. "But he wouldn't have to worry about that—Valeska Mourot makes two thousand a week."

"Two thousand what?" Pop said. "Two thousand dollars," Cousin Emmy answered.

"You're bughouse — that's as much as I make in a year."

"She's right," Pete said. "They make that kind of money in the movies."

Pop was convinced when Pete said it; but he shook his head. "I always said they were all crazy."

"Sure," Uncle Louie added, "none of them's any good. I know."

Pop looked at him with disgust. Cousin Emmy said: "You're crazy yourself, Louie. What do you know about it anyhow?"

"Him?" Pop asked. "Why he's the guy who put the sin in Cincinnati."

Uncle Louie reached for the rest of the potatoes and said: "And you know what he'll be if he marries her, don't you?"

Nobody asked what. "He'll be a jiga-loo," Uncle Louie added.

"What's that?" Pop asked. Mom saw he was ready to explode but she wanted to know, also.

"It's a man who takes his living from a woman," Uncle Louie answered.

Pop stood up in anger. "Who do you take your living from, you old sponger? Who's been feeding you and taking care of you and keeping you out of the poorhouse for years?"

Uncle Louie got up and reached for his hat. "You can't talk that way to me," he shouted, "I won't stand for it."

"Jim," Mom cried. "He was afraid he was going to hit the old man. He really wasn't much older than Pop but he looked so much older."

Pete got half way up and kept his eye on Pop. Uncle Louie, with one eye on Pop, took his coat from the nail by the door and hurried out. It was quite a while before anybody said anything or Pop would sit down to eat.

"No boy of mine," he said emphatically, "would ever do a thing like that."

"Of course not," Mom soothed him, "here's some warm stuff out of the pot."

Pop filled his plate again. "When he gets out of school he'll go to work like his father and his father's father."

OF FOREST CEMETERY

This is just a reminder that Circleville has one of the most natural and most charming burial grounds in southern Ohio. We want to suggest an appropriate name for it. Instead of cemetery, which is the cold and uninviting name it bears, doesn't this sound better? FOREST MEMORIAL PARK.

Just the right stretch from Main and Court-sts. on a fine paved roadway, an arch over the main entrance bearing that name would be attractive. Lately the driveways have been newly graded and gravelled and then the trees—none are more beautiful in any similar park. Trees have a great charm for every one. Joyce Kilmer, the poet, says:

"I think I shall never see
A poem as beautiful as a tree.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree."

The old soldiers of several wars and others that we should honor, our dear ones, fathers, mothers, wives, husbands, sisters, brothers, and the little ones are in this park. Every father and mother will love the name MEMORIAL much better than grave yard as a resting place for the little ones, whom they have taught to say, "Now I lay me down to sleep," Memorial is the name for the little ones as well as the grown-ups.

Life is eternal. God is everywhere and so is nature's God. In memory of those that have gone on and those that are going every day use the name MEMORIAL. "Then from out the shadowy shore God hands to you the golden key With which you may unlock the

Infection Is an After-Danger of "Shingles"

Careful Treatment Essential to This Distressing and Painful Affliction of the Skin

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health,
New York City

A FEVER BLISTER is an annoying thing and sometimes quite disfiguring to the skin. Many call it a "cold sore." One form of blister is often confused with a cold sore, yet in reality it is a different affliction. I refer to that common disorder known as "shingles."

When affects the lips, shingles is an ailment that resembles a cold sore. But usually it is found in some other part of the body than the common location for a cold sore. Shingles is an acute inflammatory condition of the skin, characterized by a group of blisters, each about the size of a small pea. As a rule, such blisters, when they occur, are found along the lines of distribution of certain nerves.

Dr. Copeland

Along Nerve Lines

For example, the effects of shingles are commonly observed on the skin overlying the spaces between the ribs. This is the pathway of the so-called "intercostal nerves." The space is referred to as the "intercostal space" and it is extensively supplied by these nerves.

If you have ever had shingles, you will agree with me that it is one of the most distressing of afflictions. Though the blisters appear harmless enough, the disease is accompanied by severe neuralgic pain. This travels along the pathway of the nerve and if located on the left side of the chest, is often mistaken for heart trouble.

The pain appears first, but it is soon followed by the rash. The attack may last from one to several weeks. In some instances the ailment may be mild and entirely disappear within a very few days. In other cases the pain is so severe as to require strong sedatives to control it.

The victim of shingles describes the pain as "burning," "drawing" or "tugging." It may persist for some time, even after the rash has disappeared.

Uncommon in Children

Shingles is not common in children and when they do have it, it usually causes little or no pain. There is consolation in knowing that one attack of shingles usually confers immunity from further attacks.

Another problem that must be faced is whether or not the disease may leave unsightly scars. In many instances the eruption may be extremely disfiguring for a week or two and then the blisters rupture, dry upon the skin in yellowish brown crusts, eventually falling off, leaving no infection has occurred within the blisters, no permanent trace or scar is left behind.

Every effort should be made to protect the inflamed area from injury and infection. This is best accomplished by applying dusting powders, such as zinc oxide, starch or talcum. Application of calamine lotion is often beneficial in this disturbance, but your doctor will advise whether it or something else should be used.

HOG, CORN PLANS
SOON AVAILABLE

Preliminary announcements show that the corn-hog situation in the United States is as follows: In 1910-1914, 36 per cent of the corn produced in the United States was fed to hogs; 1928-1933, 42 per cent was fed to hogs; 1910-1914, 17 per cent of the corn produced was fed to beef cattle and sheep; 1928-1933, 20 per cent to beef cattle and sheep; 1910-1914, 17 per cent of the corn produced was fed to horses and mules; 1928-1933, 12 per cent was fed to horses and mules; 1910-1914, 17 per cent was used for commercial and city purposes; 1928-1933, 12 per cent was used for commercial and city purposes; 1910-1914, of other farm uses, 11 per cent; in 1928-1933, 12 per cent.

In 1910-1914, United States exported about four million more head of hogs than in 1928-1933. During the same period, United States produced an average of four million less head of hogs in 1910-1914, than in 1928-1933.

The consumption of pork in U. S. has decreased materially in the last five years. These facts prove two things: First, that there are about 8 to 19 million too many hogs produced in the U. S. Second, when hogs are reduced, the corn average must be reduced.

The general plan is to reduce corn acreage 20 per cent under the three year average and pay farmers 30 cents a bushel less cost of administration, for the average production per acre during these three years.

In hogs, the plan is to reduce the litters farrowed 25 per cent and pay the farmers $5 per head on the 75 per cent produced. No further specific plans have been announced, but the details will be announced from time to time. It is being planned to hold a series of meetings in the county so that everyone will have an opportunity to get first hand information.

Harry Weill, expense account, $1.50.

C. M. White, expenses before Tax Commission, $5.

Young's Photographic Studio, prints for Sheriff, $1.

Total—$1,122.42.

Why Hospitals Use
a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given to the youngest child. MOVIES

AT THE GRAND

With the advent of the new musical cycle on the screen, Warner Bros., the foremost producers of such shows or which "Footlight Parade," which opened at the Grand Theatre on Sunday, is an outstanding example, may well be termed the "Ziegfelds" of the motion picture world. Certainly no other producer has been able to turn out any musical picture that can compare with "42nd Street," or "Gold Diggers of 1933."

AT THE CLIFTONA

Believing that the public is always interested in seeing something new under the sun, the management of the Cliftona Theatre has secured an attraction as timely as tomorrow's headlines. Chief Canoe and his band of Indians who are scheduled to appear for a two day engagement starting Wednesday have been acclaimed by press and public as the outstanding, novelty musical attraction of the season.

Chief Canoe had but one idea when he organized his musical attraction; namely, to give to the public something different. With that purpose in mind, he founded an attraction capable of presenting every type of music known to the theatre-going public. From the midst of the different reservations came melodies new to the white man; from the rolling prairies came the chuck wagon tunes of the cowpunchers, beloved by all; from the mountains came the old time songs in all of their simplicity, and last but not least, came the outstanding hits of the present day. From this pot-pouri of musical melodies, Chief Canoe has arranged a repertoire as only his band can play.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

When the H. C. of L. Came Down

By IRVIN S. COBB

AS I heard the tale it had to do with a small community in Texas where the railroad ran through the main street and on either side the track stood a short order restaurant owned and operated by a colored man.

One night the official bad man of the vicinity came lurching into one of these rival establishments. While the uneasy negro made pretense at being glad to see him the bully flopped his long frame into a chair and demanded:

"Nigger, have you got a nice tender sirloin steak here?"

"Yes, suh!"

"All right, then; you cook it fur me and don't you cook it too long else I'll cook you awhile myself. And along with it you better bring me some fried onions and fried potatoes and some ceery and a mess of hot biscuits and green peas and roasting ears and pie and coffee and anything else tasty that you've got around this dump."

When the bad man had eaten he leaned back in his chair, drew a springblade dirk knife out of his pocket. Suddenly he spoke and the negro jumped.

"What sort of dump does the other nigger over across the tracks run?" he asked.

"Oh, Mister Gatlin, you wouldn't lak dat place a-tall," stated the colored man.

"Yes," said the bully, "and what's more, he's a robber—he's a regular pirate. Last night I went into his joint and ordered just about what I've had here to-night. When I got through I asked him what the damage was and that black scoundrel had the gall to ask me for a dollar and a quarter? I got up intendin' to kill him. But all I done to him was just cut off both his ears with this here frog-sticker and feed 'em to him. By the way, what do I owe you for this mess of vittles?"

"Boss," said the darkey, "I reckon a dime would be ample."

CHILLICOTHE SOPRANO WINS WCAH CONTEST

Miss Dorothy Gartner, of Chillicothe, who appeared in this city in a recent recital given by pupils of Mrs. Delores Maxwell, was winner of the state contest for soprano voices conducted by WCAH of Columbus and sponsored by the Cussins & Fearn Co.

Miss Mildred Barthelmas, this city, represented Pickaway-co in the contest.

Besides the honor of winning the contest, Miss Gartner will receive a trip to New York, expense-free, and a private audition before the officials of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

The decision was made by three judges, Ellis Snyder, head of the Music Department of Capital University; Dr. Royal Hughes, head of the music department of Ohio State University; and H. E. Cherrington, music and dramatic critic of the Columbus Dispatch, based upon a broadcast made by Miss Gartner, Nov. 8, at the Pageant of Progress held at Memorial hall, Columbus.

After her graduation from Chillicothe high school, Miss Gartner graduated from Lindenwood college, Mo., where she studied four years under Miss Cora Edwards and then followed her to the College of Emporia, Kansas, where she studied two more years.

Puppet Show Is Given At Monday Club

The marionette show, "Emperor Jones" given at the Monday club meeting last evening under the supervision of Mrs. John Dunlap, Jr., was played to an appreciative audience in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. Visitors besides a full attendance of the club saw the presentation, the best play of the promising playwright, Eugene O'Neill.

"Emperor Jones" is an American negro, an ex-convict, who makes himself emperor of an island in the West Indies. When the play opens he has been emperor long enough to amass a fortune by imposing heavy taxes on the islanders and indulging in wholesale graft. With him is Smithers, a white man who although he has grown rich under the protection of the negro emperor, nevertheless entertains a grudge for him. Treason is in the air, the islanders are mustering courage to depose the emperor by calling on the local gods and demons of the forest, whither Jones in a state of fright has betaken himself. After a night of terror in demonic fear, the emperor falls a victim to the silver bullet, the only thing he had bragged, against which he was not invulnerable.

The idea around which the play is built is the way an inferior human being succumbs to weaknesses.

The puppet show was put on by the Stagecraft class of University high school, Columbus. They designed the sets, costumes and lights and this, their first production, reflected much credit on them and their teacher, Miss Mary Estle Albright.

Miss Jeanette Reichelderfer, president of the Monday club, presided at the meeting. The conservation committee reported that the state highway commission had replaced the fifty two trees that had died in "The Road of Remembrance."

REV. AND MRS. HARPER ENTERTAIN S. S. CLASS

Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Harper, E. Main-st., were hosts Monday evening, when fifteen members of the Loyal Daughters class of the United Brethren church assembled at their home for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. John Kerns, president, presided at the meeting and Mrs. Nolan Sims was in charge of the program. The session opened with group singing and prayer by Mrs. Fred Zwicker and scripture reading by Mrs. Sims.

The program consisted of group singing, contests and the following readings: "America's Great Danger" by Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine; "Do Something" by Mrs. John Kerns; "Is God Waiting," Miss Florence Lathouse, and "The Bravest Battle," Mrs. Fred Zwicker. The Wonder Box was won by Mrs. Elliott Mason.

A business session followed the program and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the host and hostess.

Group (Wilma List).

PARTY HONORS

BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. Delong, Mrs. W. Dunn and Mrs. J. Haynes entertained sixteen friends at the former's home Saturday evening honoring Miss Leona Ford on her birthday anniversary.

Games and contests were the diversions of the evening and were brought to a close when the hostesses served refreshments. Miss Ford was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Guests were Lois Bosworth, Don Olen White, Lloyd Dunn, LaVerne Robinson, Stella Jo Delong, Altha Dunn, Isabelle Starke, Elza Paxson, Oris Bosworth, William Robinson, Freddy Ford, Thomas Haynes and Miss Ford.

MRS. JOHN BELL ENTERTAINS

Mrs. John Bell, of the Columbus-pk, was hostess Monday evening, when she assembled members of her bridge club and two guests, Miss Marvene Howard and Mrs. Charles Smith, for an enjoyable evening of cards at her home.

The planned diversion was in play at three tables and after several rounds prizes were presented Mrs. L. B. Davidson and Miss Florence Dunton. A delectable lunch was served after the game.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Mary Beck, Northridge-rd.

D. U. V. WILL HAVE ANNUAL INSPECTION

The local tent Daughters of the Union Veterans will hold its annual inspection at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Post room at Memorial hall. Miss Beatrice Vogel, of Chillicothe, district deputy, will be the inspecting officer. A large attendance is desired.

Former Actress Slays Husband Who Hit Her

PAULSBORA, N. J., Nov. 21.—Still suffering from shock and hysteria, Mrs. Audrey Smith Clark, former stage beauty, today was under police guard in a Woodbury hospital while authorities here prepared to lodge charges against her for the fatal shooting of her husband, Sheldon A. Clark, 35, son of a wealthy Chicago sportsman and vice-president of the Sinclair Refining company.

Clark, an officer in the marine corps during the World war and employed as a maintenance engineer by the refining company, was shot and killed in the basement billiard room and bar of his palatial home here after an argument with his wife, in which he struck her on the head with the weighted end of a billiard cue, police said.

Although County Detective W. Clayton Angar, who was summoned to the Clark home shortly after the shooting, and Police Chief W. J. Mattson, said Mrs. Clark had confessed the shooting, no charges were lodged against the former show girl who Clark married in 1925 in Richmond, Va., where he had followed the show company in which Mrs. Clark was then playing. The couple has two children, Sheldon, 3rd, 6 years old, and Harry, 4.

ARGUMENT BEGAN IT

According to George Johnson, 35, a boiler maker and friend of Clark, who was playing billiards with the heir to the Clark fortune when the shooting occurred, the argument between Clark and his wife started when the latter asked if Clark would be at home for dinner.

Johnson, who was held in $1,000 bail as a material witness, told Police, Clark informed his wife he would not be home and the argument ensued.

MRS. HARRY DUNLAP IS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

Preceding the regular meeting of the Pickaway Plains chapter D. A. R. at Mrs. Glenn Nickerson's home Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Harry Dunlap, of Williamsport, regent, entertained at a luncheon at 12 o'clock at her home.

Invited guests included Mrs. Asa Messenger, of Xenia, state regent; Mrs. John Heaume, state vice regent and Mrs. Harford, state chairman of revolutionary relics, of Springfield; Mrs. E. A. Johnson, of Gambier, state director of the central district; Mrs. Clark Hunsicker, Mrs. Orion King, Mrs. Glenn Nickerson, this city, and Mrs. G. P. Hunsicker of Williamsport.

COLUMBUS RESIDENTS TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. R. Carlisle Moffitt of Columbus, well-known and frequent visitors in this city, will entertain this evening with a dinner party at their home, 1027 Studer-ave, in compliment to Miss Ruth Schaefer and Dr. McKee S. Pfeiffer, whose marriage will be an event of Nov. 29 in St. Albans Episcopal church in Bexley.

Covers will be laid for Mr. and Mrs. William Church, Mrs. Robert Barker, Mrs. Pearl Conrad, Field Conrad, Jack Richards, the honor guests and the hosts.

Miss Schaefer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Schaefer of Columbus and Dr. Pfeiffer, a resident of Columbus, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Pfeiffer of Kenton, O.

MRS. OWENS IS CLUB HOSTESS

Miss Elizabeth Tolbert and Miss Lillian Young were guests of Mrs. Charles Owens, E. Corwin-st., Monday evening, when she entertained members of her bridge club at a delightful party.

Three tables of contract bridge were in play with high score favors at the close of the game going to Mrs. Glen Geib and Miss Nelle Anderson.

HOUSE GUEST HONORED AT INFORMAL TEA

Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, S. Court-st., entertained fourteen of her friends informally, Monday afternoon, for the pleasure of her house guest, Mrs. E. A. Johnson, of Gambier, state director of the central district of the D. A. R., who came for the D. A. R. meeting held this afternoon at Mrs. Nickerson's home.

WASHINGTON GRANGE WILL MEET FRIDAY

Mrs. Clark, according to Johnson and Mrs. Lavinia brown, cook and housekeeper who summoned the police after the shooting, became angry and left the room.

The housekeeper said she heard the couple exchanging angry words then heard Mrs. Clark scream:

"Sheldon, you've killed me!" "Then I saw Mr. Clark with a broken billiard cue in his hand," Mrs. Brown told police, "and I could hear Mrs. Clark weeping in the dining room. Mr. Clark went on back to the billiard room."

Johnson said Clark returned to the room and resumed his billiard game.

SWING REVOLVER

"We played a few minutes more," he told police, "when the door of the room opened and Mrs. Clark came in. She had a bloody towel around her head. She stood there and stared sort of wildly. Then she said:

NEWS OF HOMES AND HOME FOLKS

VOL. 4. NO. 47. Published by STEVENSON'S Tuesday, November 21, 1933

Away back when this old U. S. A. was young, a Scotchman by the name of Duncan Phyffe, a cabinet maker residing in the city of Brotherly Love, designed a style for table bases that has lived through the years and is very stylish to this day. Just the other day, in preparation for Thanksgiving Day, we received a lovely mahogany dining room suite with a table in the Duncan Phyffe design, a buffet in the Sheraton period (Phyffe did not design a cabinet or buffet) and six beautiful ladder-back chairs upholstered in a delicate shade of blue. The front of the buffet is veneered with crotch mahogany. In all, the suite is just too lovely to be described in our space, nor have we words that can do it. All of this sounds as though this suite was only for the ultra rich. While it looks the part, the price is very reasonable at $132.00. Invest your money in this suite and you'll have something that your friends will rave about.

We know something we won't tell! We know a young lady that will receive a beautiful cedar chest for Christmas—but we won't say just who she is. Her friend did a wise act the other day when he purchased one for Christmas delivery. He realized that it was not many weeks until that big day would be with us. Why don't you take time to select a piece of furniture for Christmas delivery?

Your Thanksgiving dinner could be cooked, baked, and roasted in an Estate oven—either coal or gas—if you'll just run in and place your order for delivery at once. We have an Estate elevated oven, with heat control and insulated, fully enameled inside and outside, used four months, for which we'll take $55.00. Another Estate of the new buffet type, fully enameled and insulated, with heat control and automatic lighter, for only $65.00. In our opinion, this number is a real buy. And for the coal user, there's an Estate Heatrola range that is a knock-out at $89.50. But drop in and look them over. We can't describe them here.

A couple of dandy walnut dining room suites rolled in a few days ago. They'd make a dining room a more suitable setting for your Thanksgiving dinner than some of the older suites now in use. Look 'em over soon.

Here's a thought for Mother Christmas present! Place an order now for a SELLERS kitchen cabinet (like the one in our west window) and we'll not only deliver it for Christmas but we'll include a 51-piece hob-nail glass dinnerware FREE OF CHARGE. When you think of the thousands of steps a SELLERS will save Mother, you'll agree that she'll appreciate it.

Your home will be comfortable on Thanksgiving Day if you'll have us install an Estate Heatrola now.

Dorais Denies Boais Report; Backle Is Hurt

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21.—Promptly after the part of university department officials today, Dorais, football mentor at University of Detroit, will be interviewed by Ohio State officials next season.

Official statement was forthcoming, but a report from Detroit attributed to the effect that Dorais has been approached and offered terms.

St. John, athletic director of Ohio State University, repeated statement made after the Buckeyes' defeat by Michigan, that nothing has been done about the coaching situation. The report that Dorais will come to Ohio State looks like "so much whole cloth," he said.

HAD LONG CONTRACT

The Detroit mentor was offered the post here at the end of the 1932 football season, but then he was tied up with a long-term contract to Detroit.

Dorais was quarterback of the famous Notre Dame team which had Knute Rockne as end. Dorais and Rockne formed the receiving and throwing ends of a famous combination.

Meanwhile, hampered by injuries, the Ohio State squad drilled for its game against Illinois at Ohio Stadium here Saturday.

The regulars were not excused from attending the drill session, but took it light throughout the practice. Other members of the squad were put through a scrimmage. Guarding against any more injuries among the first-stringers, Coach Sam S. Willaman said they would not be put through scrimmage, although they will be given limbering-up exercises, formation routine, and punting and passing practice.

ROSEQUIST HURT

Possibility was seen that Pete Delich, versatile lineman, would take the place of the giant Rosequist in the line. The Cleveland star has a badly sprained ankle and is not expected to play this week. Calius, Yards, and Smith also are on the hospital list. If Yards, who is slated to replace Rosequist, is unable to play the position will likely go to Delich.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 21.

Les Kaufman, who suffered a wrenched knee Saturday, returned to the squad today as Princeton started work for the Rutgers game. The team was warned not to take lightly the finest team Rutgers ever had. Coach Crisler gave Princeton some new plays.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 21.

Harvard hopes rose today with the return of Captain Dean and Coate. One shift has been made in the first team. Shaun Kelly replacing Tom Nazro at end. The Brown victory supplied a tonic which Harvard thinks will lead to a victory over Yale.

WESLEYAN GRIDDERS FACE THESE BOBCATS

STATE CAGERS FACING TOUGH 19-TILT CARD

Hosket, Conrad, Colburn, Beitner, Wilson Form Nucleus For Buckeyes.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 21.—With the end of football season, only one game and several banquets away, Coach Harold G. Olsen's Big Ten championship Ohio State University basketball squad looked for the first time today at its completed schedule, and went seriously about its work.

Athletic Director L. M. St. John announced today that the University of Dayton has been scheduled for a New Year's night game at Dayton, filling the only open date on the card which includes 20 difficult games. High spots of the schedule: non-conference games against Ohio Wesleyan, University of Western Ontario, Pittsburgh, Princeton, Marquette, Notre Dame and Western Reserve; and two conference games each against Chicago, Indiana, Northwestern, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

TEAMS ALTERED

In compliance with the Big Ten's revolving schedule, Illinois, Purdue, and Iowa are dropped from the card this year, and Michigan, Chicago, and Northwestern are added. The Buckeye squad is already out of the blister stage. Coach Olsen has had them at work in the new Ohio State gymnasium three nights each week for the past month, and although several promising candidates are still playing football, the outstanding lettermen have been scrimmaging daily.

Five lettermen are available: Capt. Bill Hosket and Bob Colburn, Dalton; Bill Beitner, Dover; Fred Conrad, Wooster; and John Wilson, Garfield Heights. Conrad is still playing football. Lettermen lost from last year are Capt. Howard Mattison, Erie, Pa., Lee Hinchman, Columbus, and Herb Brown, Dayton.

PACKERS LEADING IN TWO BRANCHES

The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football league for three of the last four years, are tied for honors in the divergent types of play according to league statistics compiled today.

The Packers have thrown the most forwards, 143, and because of the amazing accuracy of Arnold (Flash) Berber, have completed the most, 63, for an average of 44 per cent. Brooklyn has completed 55 in 120 for an average of 45 per cent but has played three less games. On defense, the Packers are tied with Portsmouth for honors. The Packers have yielded only 1571 yards in ten games, the Spartans 1408 in nine.

Only the New York Giants have a better record in making points, the Giants have scored 170 to 148 for the Wisconsin eleven. Boston continues to stand out as the offensive leader with 2385 yards gained in ten games.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 21.—The Navy speeded up its offensive against Army plays today. Chung-Hoon, one of the Navy's best backs, showed no ill effects from his recent injury but Dave Miller, an end, is definitely through for the year. Miller ruptured a tear duct. The squad will leave here for Philadelphia late Thursday afternoon.

Bowling News

Teams of Ashville duck pin bowlers, men and women, will invade the Circleville Recreation alleys, Tuesday evening, for a match with two local picked teams.

Prizes for the week's high scores were given Virgil Hanley, Frank Lynch and Charles Weidinger in ladies ducks, ten pins and men's ducks. Their scores were 162, 236 and 183, respectively.

Averages for the week were: Ten pins; C. Weidinger, 184; M. Sensenbrenner, 181; R. Moyer, 177; A. Elsea, 169; F. Riggin, 165; C. Brown, 161; J. Boggs and F. Lynch, 155; R. Herdman, 152; R. Valentine, 150. Men's ducks; C. Weidinger, 126;

J. Danton, 125; B. Noble, 125; A. Elsea, 123; S. Lamb, 117; P. Weaver, 114; C. Kraft, 112; L. Evans and B. Bales, 106; J. Lynch, 105.

Ladies' ducks; M. Starkey, 106; K. Kirkpatrick, 104; M. Howard, 102; L. Grant, 98; G. Howard, 96; D. Wilson, 94; A. Briggs, 89; G. Bower, 83; D. Fohl, 81; P. Dudson, 78.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 21.—Dartmouth will entrain for Chicago Thursday. It was decided today three full evenings will make the trip to play the Maroon.

George Stengle, who played against Cornell with a wrenched back, may not be able to start at quarterback against Chicago. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Lou Little today had his defense all planned for the attack Syracuse is expected to launch against Columbia mentor. The Columbia squad, intact and eager to wind up its finest season with a victory, went to work with an eleven that bodes no good for the big Orange team.

it took the air and headed out over the sea. The take-off was at 7:08 a. m. (2:08 a. m. E. S. T.).

As usual, the Lindberghs declined to reveal their plans. They would not say whether the Azores hop was to be the first leg of a flight across the Atlantic to the United States, or whether they would return to Europe after inspecting the air travel facilities at these Atlantic islands.

UP TO WEATHER

The opinion prevailed that the weather would be the final decision-maker for Col. Lindbergh, and that any decision made would be on the spot. In other words, he probably will not decide where or how he will go from the Azores until he is ready to leave.

Grange Writes of G. M. Wertman Death

Another one of our number, George Wertman, has been called from this life to another sphere of action. In his going we have lost a valuable citizen, a consistent member of our order, an earnest supporter of all that is good and upright in our every day life.

His honesty and integrity are unquestioned. A devoted husband, a kind father and an excellent adviser in everything pertaining to the betterment of his fellowman. We deplore his loss and it will be difficult to fill his place in our midst.

We wish these remarks to be placed in our record, a copy sent to the local paper and a copy sent to the bereaved family.

Remorse goes to sleep during a prosperous period, wrote Rousseau, and wakes up in adversity.

WHY GET UP NIGHTS?

Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BLICKER's, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c tin from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Hamilton & Ryan, Druggists and Grand-Grand Drug Store say BLICKER'S is a best seller. —Adv.

THREATS TO LYNCH SHOWN IN TRIAL OF SOUTHERN NEGROES

DECATUR, Ala., Nov. 21.—An amazing document, purporting to be the quoted opinions of a cross examination of Morgan-co residents—more than 500 of them—expressing the belief that "the Scottsboro niggers and their Jew lawyers from New York should be lynched" lay before the circuit court here today.

The record, containing the names, addresses and occupations of the persons quoted, created a sensation as it was introduced by Samuel Leibowitz, and Joseph Brodsky, New York attorneys defending the seven Scottsboro negroes on a charge of attacking two white girls mill workers on a freight train three years ago.

The New York counsel brought forth the voluminous document as their ace-in-the-hole in an attempt to shift the third Scottsboro case trial to Mobile, in the southern part of the state.

When are identical rail bids not the result of collusion? When they are as low as the transportation co-ordinator wants to pay.

"Hard times" were never easy on good looks! If you've been holding down on the beauty budget, now's the time to do a right-about-face . . . to do the right thing about your face . . . your hands . . . your hair!

THE LINES are lifting on the economic chart. Better times are here.

But what about the lines that Four Years have etched in our faces? What about the little worry-lines between your own two eyes, and the tired sag in your throat muscles where you haven't been rubbing "up and out . . . up and out" as regularly as you used to?

Recent years have been a little ruthless! And even with leisure forced upon us, no one seemed to find time to keep beauty-fit. Have you bought and used your regular cleansing and nourishing creams, for instance? Is your rouge compact fresh, or worn down to a hard, flinty little layer? And what about your face powder? Haven't you switched around a bit . . . buying brands that were offered as cut-price specials?

Well, in the meanwhile, Time has rushed on relentlessly and none of us is four years younger! But here's the Big Satisfaction . . . it's never too late to mend by today's beauty methods. A new routine and the right cosmetics give you just the start you need. So why not a Recovery Program for your good looks! Clear a shelf for your own . . . fill it with the best cosmetics you can buy . . . and draw up a code of what you will do for appearances' sake every single day!

Standard beauty-products may never again be so low in price!

In fact, there's every reason why THEY MUST GO UP! Consider all the price-confusion we've had. No standard of value anywhere. Your favorite face powder was 79c at one store, 69c next door, and perhaps 59c as a "1-day special" at a third store. All this while the regular price of $1 was marked on the package. Who was making the fair profit? On any profit at all?

Well, under the new cosmetic code, the dealer who sells toilet goods must pay his salespeople a stipulated wage, and permit no one to work more than 8 hours a day for 5 days a week. If his store remains open for more hours or more days, he is obliged to hire more salespeople.

Manufacturing costs are higher, to

This change, you can see, may raise the price of your favorite beauty-products . . . but it's putting more people to work at higher wages.

All basic ingredients, such as perfume and balm oils and Italian talc, have gone up in price. Also, under NRA codes, cosmetic workers in factories have been raised to a minimum of 30c per hour for women and 45c per hour for men. All this adds still further to the new price-range on your favorite products.

For all these reasons, we say impartially—"NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY" beauty aids. Stock up on your regular brands. Try some of the new preparations, developed with foresight during the depression years. Good cosmetics will not deteriorate, and the perfume in powders and creams can't fade away while the package is sealed.

Glance through the newspaper NOW for the announcements of reliable stores selling beauty aids at attractive prices, and patronize the house that is well-stocked and well-informed.

RECOVERY PROGRAM

for good looks. Get started today!

COMPLEXION

Resume your thorough nightly cleansing at once. Lay in a supply of cleansing cream and facial tissues. These are two daily beauty essentials that you can safely and economically buy in quantity RIGHT NOW. A good grade of cold cream will "keep" indefinitely.

SOAP! Have you been using the gelatinous soap-dish variety on your complexion? YOUR skin may need something more bland, or a corrective soap of some kind. By all means, have your own soap-cake and container. Buy complexion soap by the box . . . your dealer will give you a good price today.

SKIN FOOD . . . nourishing creams . . . astringents . . . perhaps a mild bleach. Take a complexion inventory; get advice at any good toilet counter. This is the time to buy all standard preparations in quantity, AND THEN USE THEM!

MASQUE CREAMS and the new refined clays are very effective in tightening the skin temporarily and stimulating circulation. See the demonstrations on these and learn which kind is best suited to your requirements.

FOUNDATION CREAM and under-powder lotions. Perhaps you have been getting along without them. But your powder has a better chance when you prepare the skin to receive it. Have you seen the new foundation aids that lighten the skin a tone and make you look younger?

ROUGE! More and more women are using cream rouge and liking it immensely. If you start with foundation cream, it's easy to smudge the rouge on lightly and becomingly. Last all day, too. See the new shades in cream and dry rouge. A good idea is to buy this in color of the same shade; use the cream rouge on your dressing table and carry the dry-rouge compact in your purse.

LIPSTICKS! Aren't they the charming companions? Try a brand-new shade which you've never used. In fact, most of us need, about three shades—a rosy daytime tone . . . a bright hue for evening . . . and an orangy cast for brown and rustic fashions.

FACE POWDER! By all means, buy THIS in quantity. Find your best brand and your right shade and make them YOURS until your own skin changes . . . as it does from time to time. Face powder in dry, sealed boxes keeps its perfume and adhesion perfectly.

HANDS

Maybe yours (like ours) have done work that was new to them these recent years. But Hand Lotion is the answer to the roughened-skinned problem. Buy it by the half dozen bottles. Keep one in the kitchen and one in the bath. Use a few drops of lotion whenever your hands have been in water. Improvement begins at ONCE. Hand lotion is another beauty aid that "keeps," but of course use it, too!

CUTICLE REMOVER . . . another small item with a big purpose. A little goes a long way, but none at all is fatal. If hang-nails have developed, treat the skin with an antiseptic cuticle cream. Daily care does wonders, and you can spare five minutes.

THEN . . . NEW POLISHES. Aren't they exciting. A whole array of new colors to set off every mood and every costume. Bigger bottles now, too . . . but it won't be long! Buy in quantity today, and leave the bottles sealed. Invest in Polish Remover, too. Don't forget that if you change nail-color frequently you need plenty of Remover.

HAIR

BUY A NEW BRUSH! Use it vigorously and regularly! Maybe your hair DOES need a course of treatments, but maybe it only needs tonic and a good brushing. Tonics, brilliantine, wave-setting lotion, shampoo soap . . . all these things you can "pick up" at the present prices and have on hand when the cost advances or the bottle shrinks in size.

BATH

Soap and hot water may be all you NEED, but certainly not all you WANT. Bath salts, dusting powder, toilette water, and scented soap are good buys today because . . . per bath, they represent a lot of luxury at very little cost. And then, for the unexpected gift or party prize . . . how nice to have on hand!

CHAPTER THIRTY-EIGHT

Pop was reading the paper like he always did when he ate supper. This was one of the things Tommy didn't like about Pop, like his going around in his Sox; and when Tommy was there Pop humored him and didn't read while he ate; but Mom always felt sorry for Pop because, when a man worked hard all day and was a good provider and brought in the food and shelter, she always thought he ought to enjoy it the best he could without too many frills or fancies — although Mom felt like Tommy that it wasn't good table manners — and Pop always managed to have the sugar bowl, or ketchup bottle, or something somebody was always wanting, as a prop for his paper.

Then Uncle Louie had to do the same thing — it was Uncle Louie who had started Pop on it; and there were only two parts to the paper and whichever one got it first hated to separate it and it made it kind of bad around the meal time as Mom felt people should feel happy while eating, so they could digest their food. Most of Uncle Louie's stomach trouble was due to his grumpiness, she always thought. So finally Mom had got to putting the paper away when it came and saving it for Pop.

That made Uncle Louie mad at first but Mom couldn't help it; any how Uncle Louie had plenty of time to sit and read papers all day as goodness knows he didn't do anything else. Sometimes Mom wished he would go to the Old Men's Home, like he was always promising, although she wondered how long they'd put up with his foolishness out there, and who would get up and get him hot water whenever he yelled for it.

This night Mom had put the paper away without looking at it, although she usually looked over the headlines on the front page, anyhow, and then always turned to the sport page to see if it said anything about Tommy. Her time for really reading the paper was after the dishes were washed and things were quiet, and everybody else was through with it. So when Pop had sat down at the head of the table and put on his glasses and filled up his plate and spread butter thick on the heel of bread, Mom handed him the paper and he fixed up a place for it with the spoon dish and began looking to see what he'd read first so he'd know how to tell it. Mom was at the stove, straining the coffee, with her back to Pop, and when he yelled out she almost burnt her hand.

"I'll be damned!" was all Pop could say. "I'll be damned!" Pop always tried to be a gentleman in his own house although they said he swore something awful at the factory.

"What is it?" Mom asked, Pete and Cousin Emmy crowded around; Uncle Louie was filling his plate.

"It's that boy again," Pop said. From looking at him Mom couldn't tell what it was. Her mind was full of things in the few seconds it took her to get to the paper. Maybe he was really hurt. Lads, maybe he had a setback.

Uncle Louie maintained, "Now look here," Pop said, "you can't go around saying that about her. If Tommy wants to marry her, she must be all right. Now cut with it — what do you know about her?"

"Maybe nothing special about her," Uncle Louie admitted. "But I know all about them movie stars and the wild parties they're all the time having."

Pete was smiling. He put the paper down. Mom felt better.

"That's nothing," Pete said, "he's just going to get married."

"Married!" Cousin Emmy reached for the paper. Mom sat down, trying to think. This was the worst thing. Cousin Emmy was all excited. "Know who to?" she called to Mom. "To Valeska Mourouf."

"Who's she?" Mom asked weakly.

"The movie star," Cousin Emmy exclaimed. "You know — 'The Love Nest and The Purple Garter'."

Mom didn't know. Mom didn't have much time for the movies or money either. Neither did Pop. Mom looked at Pop and she could see he felt the same as she did. Tommy married!

Pete said: "Take it easy. Those movie stars are always going to marry somebody but don't."

"I'll get a pass and go out for the wedding," Cousin Emmy said, excitedly. Cousin Emmy's husband was a railroad and she could get passes anywhere on the system and other places if she asked soon enough but she had to pay half the Pullman charges.

"When's it going to be?" Mom asked, still looking at Pop, "and who is she — how long has he known her? It must be wrong."

"No," Cousin Emmy squealed, "here's his picture and hers. I'd know her anywhere. She's one of my favorites."

The rest had stopped eating. Uncle Louie never stopped eating as long as there was anything on the table. Now, with a mouthful, he said: "Huh! Movie star. Huh!"

"What's the matter with her?" Pop asked.

"They're all alike — no good. And besides she's a hunk."

"She is not," Cousin Emmy replied sternly. "She comes from the nobility. I read a piece about her just the other day."

"So did I," Uncle Louie said, "it said she got a splinter in her leg from the arm of a chair, and anybody with a name like that is a hunk."

Mom said: "The supper's getting cold."

Pop started to cut his ham; it was as he liked it, so tender and well-cooked he could cut it with a fork. He stopped in the middle and glared at Uncle Louie. "What do you mean, she's no good? You've got to prove that."

"None of them is any good," Uncle Louie maintained.

"Now look here," Pop said, "you can't go around saying that about her. If Tommy wants to marry her, she must be all right. Now cut with it — what do you know about her?"

"Maybe nothing special about her," Uncle Louie admitted. "But I know all about them movie stars and the wild parties they're all the time having."

OF FOREST CEMETERY

This is just a reminder that Circleville has one of the most natural and most charming burial grounds in southern Ohio. We want to suggest an appropriate name for it. Instead of cemetery, which is the cold and uninviting name it bears, doesn't this sound better? FOREST MEMORIAL PARK.

Just the right distance from Main and Court-sts on a fine paved roadway, an arch over the main entrance bearing that name would be attractive. Lately the driveways have been newly graded and graveled and then the trees now are more beautiful in any similar park. Trees have a great charm for every one. Joyce Kilmer, the poet, says:

"I think I shall never see
A poem as beautiful as a tree
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree."

The old soldiers of several wars and others that we should honor, our dear ones, fathers, mothers, wives, husbands, sisters, brothers and the little ones are in this park. Every father and mother will love the name MEMORIAL, much better than grave yard as a resting place for the little ones, whom they have taught to say, "Now I lay me down to sleep," Memorial is the name for the little ones as well as the grown-ups.

Life is eternal, God is everywhere and so is nature's God. In memory of those that have gone or and those that are going every day use the name MEMORIAL. "Them from out the shadow shore God hands to you the golden key With which you may unlock the door.

Of sacred hallowed Memory."
William E. Gladstone says:
"Show me the manner a community cares for its dead and I will measure with exactness the tender sympathy of its people."

Our people have nothing of which to be ashamed. Sometime soon let's hope for a change from Cemetery to MEMORIAL PARK. With nothing but the kindest sympathy.

Sincerely, A. C. WILKES.

A FEVER BLISTER is an annoying thing and sometimes quite disfiguring to the skin. Many call it a "cold sore." One form of blister is often confused with a cold sore, yet in reality it is a different affliction. I refer to that common disorder known as "shingles."

When it affects the lips, shingles is an ailment that resembles a cold sore. But usually it is found in some other part of the body than the common location for a cold sore.

Shingles is an acute inflammatory condition of the skin, characterized by a group of blisters, each about the size of a small pea. As a rule, such blisters, when they occur, are found along the lines of distribution of certain nerves.

Along Nerve Lines

For example, the effects of shingles are commonly observed on the skin overlying the spaces between the ribs. This is the pathway of the so-called "intercostal nerves." The space is referred to as the "intercostal space" and it is extensively supplied by these nerves.

If you have ever had shingles, you will agree with me that it is one of the most distressing of afflictions. Though the blisters appear harmless enough, the disease is accompanied by severe neuralgic pain. This travels along the pathway of the nerve and is located on the left side of the chest, is often mistaken for heart pain.

The pain appears first, but it is soon followed by the rash. The attack may last from one to several weeks. In some instances the ailment may be mild and entirely disappear within a very few days. In other cases the pain is so severe as to require strong sedatives to control it.

The victim of shingles describes the pain as "burning," "drawing" or "tugging." It may persist for some time, even after the rash has disappeared.

Uncommon in Children

Shingles is not common in children and when they do have it, it usually causes little or no pain. There is consolation in knowing that an attack of shingles usually centers immunity from further attacks.

Another problem that must be faced is whether or not the disease may leave unsightly scars. In many instances the eruption may be extremely disfiguring for a week or two and then the blisters rupture, dry upon the skin in yellowish brown crusts, eventually falling off. If a vivid no infection has occurred within the blisters, no permanent trace or scar is left behind.

Every effort should be made to protect the inflamed area from injury and infection. This is best accomplished by applying dusting powders, such as zinc oxide, starch or talcum. Application of calamine lotion is often beneficial in this disturbance, but your doctor will advise whether it or something else should be used.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

DOWN in Arkansas there used to be lots of stories about lazy men. I reckon that was before they got good roads there to run around on. They move right fast in most parts of Arkansas now, but there was a time when nearly every other man you seen was just kinda loafing along.

A neighbor come to the Wilson house, smoking his pipe and kinda moseying along. Mrs. Wilson says, "Say, John Borrow, I'm sure glad you come. I was going to look for a man to beat this here carpet for me."

He says, "Oh, don't do that, Mrs. Wilson! Just tell me where he lives, and if it ain't too far away, I'll go and get him for you."

The pain appears first, but it is soon followed by the rash. The attack may last from one to several weeks. In some instances the ailment may be mild and entirely disappear within a very few days. In other cases the pain is so severe as to require strong sedatives to control it.

The victim of shingles describes the pain as "burning," "drawing" or "tugging." It may persist for some time, even after the rash has disappeared.

Uncommon in Children

Shingles is not common in children and when they do have it, it usually causes little or no pain. There is consolation in knowing that an attack of shingles usually centers immunity from further attacks.

Another problem that must be faced is whether or not the disease may leave unsightly scars. In many instances the eruption may be extremely disfiguring for a week or two and then the blisters rupture, dry upon the skin in yellowish brown crusts, eventually falling off. If a vivid no infection has occurred within the blisters, no permanent trace or scar is left behind.

Every effort should be made to protect the inflamed area from injury and infection. This is best accomplished by applying dusting powders, such as zinc oxide, starch or talcum. Application of calamine lotion is often beneficial in this disturbance, but your doctor will advise whether it or something else should be used.

It you have ever had shingles, you will agree with me that it is one of the most distressing of afflictions. Though the blisters appear harmless enough, the disease is accompanied by severe neuralgic pain. This travels along the pathway of the nerve and is located on the left side of the chest, is often mistaken for heart pain.

HOG, CORN PLANS SOON AVAILABLE

Preliminary announcements show that the corn-hog situation in the United States is as follows: In 1910-1914, 36 per cent of the corn produced in the United States was fed to hogs; 1928-1933, 42 per cent was fed to hogs; 1910-1914, 17 per cent of the corn produced was fed to beef cattle and sheep; 1928-1933, 20 per cent to beef cattle and sheep; 1910-1914, 17 per cent of the corn produced was fed to horses and mules; 1928-1933, 12 per cent was fed to horses and mules; 1910-1914, 17 per cent was used for commercial and city purposes; 1928-1933, 12 per cent was used for commercial and city purposes; 1910-1914, of other farm uses, 11 per cent; in 1928-1933, 12 per cent.

In 1910-1914, United States exported about four million more head of hogs than in 1928-1933. During the same period, United States produced an average of four million less head of hogs in 1910-1914, than in 1928-1933.

The consumption of pork in U. S. has decreased materially in the last five years. These facts prove two things: First, that there are about 8 to 19 million too many hogs produced in the U. S. Second, when hogs are reduced, the corn average must be reduced.

The general plan is to reduce corn acreage 20 per cent under the three year average and pay farmers 30 cents a bushel less cost of administration, for the average production per acre during these three years.

In hogs, the plan is to reduce the littered farrowed 25 per cent and pay the farmers $5 per head on the 75 per cent produced. No further specific plans have been announced, but the details will be announced from time to time. It is being planned to hold a series of meetings in the county so that everyone will have an opportunity to get first hand information.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. MOVIES

With the advent of the new musical cycle on the screen, Warner Bros., the foremost producers of such shows as which "Footlight Parade," which opened at the Grand Theatre on Sunday, is an outstanding example, may well be termed the "Ziegfelds" of the motion picture world. Certainly no other producer has been able to turn out any musical picture that can compare with "42nd Street," or "Gold Diggers of 1933."

AT THE CLIFTONA

Believing that the public is always interested in seeing something new under the sun, the management of the Cliftona Theatre has secured an attraction as timely as tomorrow's headlines. Chief Canoe and his band of Indians who are scheduled to appear for a two day engagement starting Wednesday have been acclaimed by press and public as the outstanding novelty musical attraction of the season.

Chief Canoe had but one idea when he organized his musical attraction; namely, to give to the public something different. With that purpose in mind, he founded an attraction capable of presenting every type of music known to the theatre-going public. From the midst of the different reservations came melodies new to the white man; from the rolling prairies came the chuck wagon tunes of the cowpunchers, beloved by all; from the mountains came the old time songs in all of their simplicity, and last but not least, came the outstanding hits of the present day. From this pot-pouri of musical melodies, Chief Canoe has arranged a repertoire as only his band can play.

When the H. C. of L. Came Down

By IRVIN S. COBB

AS I heard the tale it had to do with a small community in Texas where the railroad ran through the main street and on either side the track stood a short order restaurant owned and operated by a colored man.

One night the official bad man of the vicinity came lurching into one of these rival establishments. While the uneasy negro made pretense at being glad to see him the bully flopped his long frame into a chair and demanded:

"Nigger, have you got a nice tender sirloin steak here?"

"Yes, suh!"

"All right, then; you cook it fur me and don't you cook it too long else I'll cook you awhile myself. And along with it you better bring me some fried onions and fried potatoes and some ceery and a mess of hot biscuits and green peas and roasting ears and pie and coffee and anything else tasty that you've got around this dump."

When the bad man had eaten he leaned back in his chair, drew a springback dirk knife out of his pocket. Suddenly he spoke and the negro jumped.

"What sort of dump does the other nigger over across the tracks run?" he asked.

"Oh, Mister Gatlin, you wouldn't lak dat place a-tall," stated the colored man.

"Yes," said the bully, "and what's more, he's a robber—he's a regular pirate. Last night I went into his joint and ordered just about what I've had here to-night. When I got through I asked him what the damage was and that black scoundrel had the gall to ask me for a dollar and a quarter? I got up intendin' to kill him. But all I done to 'em was just cut off both his ears with this here frog-sticker and feed 'em to him. By the way, what do I owe you for this mess of vittles?"

"Boss," said the darkey, "I reckon a dime would be ample."

Puppet Show
Is Given At Monday Club

The Marionette show, "Emperor Jones" given at the Monday club meeting last evening under the supervision of Mrs. John Dunlap Jr., was played to an appreciative audience in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church. Visitors besides a full attendance of the club saw the presentation, the best play of the promising playwright, Eugene O'Neill.

"Emperor Jones" is an American negro, an ex-convict, who makes himself emperor of an island in the West Indies. When the play opens he has been emperor long enough to amass a fortune by imposing heavy taxes on the islanders and indulging in wholesale graft. With him is Smithers, a white man who although he has grown rich under the protection of the negro emperor, nevertheless entertains a grudge for him. Treason is in the air, the islanders are mustering courage to depose the emperor by calling on the local gods and demons of the forest, whither Jones in a state of fright has betaken himself. After a night of terror in demoniac fear, the emperor falls a victim to the silver bullet, the only thing he had bragged against which he was not invulnerable.

The idea around which the play is built is the way an inferior human being succumbs to weaknesses.

The puppet show was put on by the Stagecraft class of University high school, Columbus. They designed the sets, costumes and lights and this, their first production, reflected much credit on them and their teacher, Miss Mary Este Albright.

Miss Jeannette Reichelderfer, president of the Monday club, presided at the meeting. The conservation committee reported that the state highway commission had replaced the fifty two trees that had died in "The Road of Remembrance."

REV. AND MRS. HARPER
ENTERTAIN S. C. CLASS

Rev. and Mrs. T. C. Harper, E. Main-st., were hosts Monday evening, when fifteen members of the Royal Daughters class of the United Brethren church assembled at their home for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. John Kerns, president, presided at the meeting and Mrs. Nolan Sims was in charge of the program. The session opened with group singing and prayer by Mrs. Fred Zwicker and scripture reading by Mrs. Sims.

The program consisted of group singing, contests and the following readings: "America's Great Danger" by Mrs. Elizabeth Valentine; "Do Something" by Mrs. John Kerns; "Is God Waiting," Miss Florence Lathouse, and "The Bravest Battle," Mrs. Fred Zwicker. The Wonder Box was won by Mrs. Elliott Mason.

A business session followed the program and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the host and hostess.

MR. AND MRS. GROUP
PLEASANTLY SURPRISED

A group of twenty two members and friends of the Young People's society of Christ Lutheran church at Lick Run motored to Springfield, Monday evening, and gave Mr. and Mrs. George W. Group (Wilma List) whose marriage was an event of last week, an old-fashioned belling. Mrs. Group is a member of the society.

A surprise shower for the newlyweds at their home followed the belling and a covered-dish lunch was enjoyed.

The group was comprised of Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Troutman, Miss Lottie Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern, Misses Mabel and Ethel Kern, Miss Bertha Krimmel, Clarence List, Paul List and Oscar List, of Circleville and vicinity; Mrs. John List, Noah List, Mr. and Mrs. Luther List, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth List, Ellis List, Miss Edith Trump and Donald Trump of Williamsport, and Miss Nancy Mumaw and Harold Mumaw of Springfield.

BRIDE-ELECT WILL BE
HONOR GUEST AT PARTY

Miss Dorothy Hill, of Darbyville, who will become the bride of Mr. Wayne P. Stewart of Columbus, on Thanksgiving Day, will be honor guest when her sister, Mrs. Laurence Kegg, of Columbus, entertains Saturday afternoon at her home with four tables of bridge.

Miss Hill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hill of Darbyville and is a teacher in the school there.

Guests at the party will be Mrs. Harry Carpenter, Mrs. John Barton, Mrs. Kessel Kirkhead, Mrs. Sheldon Pitt, Mrs. Margaret Short, Mrs. Thomas McKinley, Mrs. Chester J. Downs, Miss Louise Carpenter, Miss Ruth Shell, Miss Christina Heeter, Miss Florence Hill, Miss Betty Trumbo, Miss Sara Trump, Miss Lucille Wolfe, Miss Catherine Wolfe and Mrs. George W. Group (Wilma List).

Mrs. E. Delong, Mrs. W. Dunn and Mrs. J. Haynes entertained sixteen friends at the former's home Saturday evening honoring Miss Leona Ford on her birthday anniversary.

Games and contests were the diversions of the evening and were brought to a close when the hostesses served refreshments. Miss Ford was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Guests were Lois Bosworth, Don Olen White, Lloyd Dunn, LaVerne Robinson, Stella Jo Delong, Altha Dunn, Isabelle Starke, Eliza Paxson, Oris Bosworth, William Robinson, Freddy Ford, Thomas Haynes and Miss Ford.

MRS. JOHN BELL
ENTERTAINS

Mrs. John Bell, of the Columbus-pk, was hostess Monday evening, when she assembled members of her bridge club and two guests, Miss Marvone Howard and Mrs. Charles Smith, for an enjoyable evening of cards at her home.

The planned diversion was in play at three tables and after several rounds prizes were presented Mrs. L. B. Davidson and Miss Florence Dunton. A delectable lunch was served after the game.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Mary Beck, Northridge-rd.

D. U. V. WILL HAVE ANNUAL INSPECTION

The local tent Daughters of the Union, Veterans will hold its annual inspection at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Post room at Memorial hall. Miss Beatrice Vogel, of Chillicothe, district deputy, will be the inspecting officer. A large attendance is desired.

Former Actress Slays
Husband Who Hit Her

PAULSBORA, N. J., Nov. 21.—Still suffering from shock and hysteria, Mrs. Audrey Smith Clark, former stage beauty, today was under police guard in a Woodbury hospital while authorities here prepared to lodge charges against her for the fatal shooting of her husband, Sheldon A. Clark, 35, son of a wealthy Chicago sportsman and vice-president of the Sinclair Refining company.

Clark, an officer in the marine corps during the World war and employed as a maintenance engineer by the refining company, was shot and killed in the basement billiard room and bar of his palatial home here after an argument with his wife, in which he struck her on the head with the weighted end of a billiard cue, police said.

Although County Detective W. Clayton Appgar, who was summoned to the Clark home shortly after the shooting, and Police Chief W. J. Mattson, said Mrs. Clark had confessed the shooting, no charges were lodged against the former show girl who Clark married in 1925 in Richmond, Va., where he had followed the show company in which Mrs. Clark was then playing. The couple has two children, Sheldon, 3rd, 6 years old, and Harry, 4.

ARGUMENT BEGAN IT

According to George Johnson, 35, a boiler maker and friend of Clark, who was playing billiards with the heir to the Clark fortune when the shooting occurred, the argument between Clark and his wife started when the latter asked if Clark would be at home for dinner.

Johnson, who was held in $1,000 bail as a material witness, told Police, Clark informed his wife he would not be home and the argument ensued.

Rehearsal Started
For Community Show

Rehearsals are now under way for the community show "The World's All Right." Various committees are busy and everything is under way for the show.

The best talent in the community has been secured and also many leading business and professional men are taking part.

The money raised from this play is to go into a fund to buy shoes for the needy children in the county.

The play will be given at the Grand Opera House Dec. 6 and 7, and in New Holland Dec. 5 and in Ashville on Dec. 8.

A full list of the cast and choruses will be announced in a few days. Watch this paper for a list of the cast as it will be of interest to everyone.
